Product Description

DHE CP48 Cultipacker 5'

DHE CP48 5' Cultipacker - Firm Seedbeds, Better Germination

Get the most out of your planting with the DHE CP48 5' Cultipacker, designed to create the ideal seedbed for maximum germination and growth. Whether you're working food plots, pastures, or garden areas, this cultipacker helps ensure proper seed-to-soil contact for stronger, more uniform results.

Built tough with a heavy-duty frame, the CP48 is made to handle repeated use in demanding conditions. The rugged cast rollers break up clods, press seed into the soil, and leave behind a smooth, firm finish that helps retain moisture and promote even emergence.

With its 5-foot working width, this unit is a great fit for compact and utility tractors, offering efficient coverage while remaining easy to maneuver. It's especially effective when used after seeding, helping lock in your investment and improve overall crop success.

Designed for simple hookup with a standard 3-point hitch, the DHE CP48 is straightforward to operate and built to last season after season.
